Art Unit: 3736

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-44, 52-55, drawn to a diagnostic method9600, classified in class, subclass 532.
- II. Claims 45 and 46, drawn to a skin gas detector, classified in class 600, subclass 584.
- III. Claims 47-51, drawn to a method of delivering an optical radiation beam, classified in class 600, subclass 473.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case, the apparatus could be used to practice a materially different method, such as a method of collecting gas from the skin.

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as a device for collecting gas from the skin. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because it only recites the step of delivering a beam to one location, not multiple locations. The subcombination has separate utility such as delivering beams for optical treatment of a patient.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

ELECTION OF SPECIES

If applicant elects group I, then the following election of species requirement is also pertinent. To be complete, applicant's response must elect one group and one species, and list the claims readable on the elected embodiment.

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

Species I, drawn to figure 1.

Species II, drawn to figure 3.

Species III, drawn to figure 4.

Species IV, drawn to figure 5.

Species V, drawn to figure 8.

Species VI, drawn to figure 9.

Species VII, drawn to figure 13.

Art Unit: 3736

Species VIII, drawn to figure 14.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently,  generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Art Unit: 3736

A telephone call was made to Mr. Coe Bloomberg on August 18, 2003 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
